1. take an old shirt, with wide shoulders.

2. experiment some round (or other shape) objects as guides.

3. turn the shirt inside-out and draw the contours.

4. cut along the lines.

5. something like this.

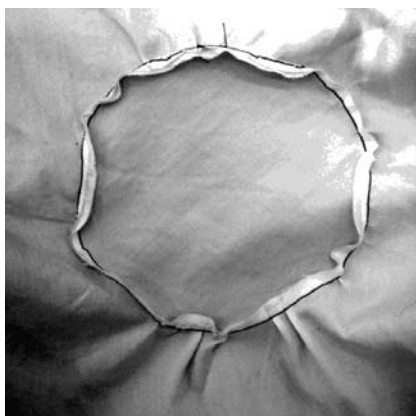

6. shift the direction 45° of the cut-out pieces (looks nice with patterned or textures shirts).

7. pin into place.

8. sew along sides.

9. into something like this.

10. when turned right it could look like this.

11. new texture - new fit.
